

Become a Community Health Worker Apprenticeship Site

As an employer, you can partner with MCD Global Health to help grow the community and public health workforce in Maine. Enroll as a site to host apprentice Community Health Workers (CHWs) today!

What are the Benefits?

As part of the CHW Apprenticeship Program, your organization can prepare and mold its future workforce. Apprentice CHWs in your organization can perform required duties while also learning needed skills for higher-level performance.

As a registered apprenticeship site in Maine, you'll have many benefits, including:

- All training costs covered.
- Full access to comprehensive training resources.
- Employee mentorships.
- An upskilled workforce.
- Expanded and improved services to populations.

In addition to preparing your own future workforce, you are also strengthening Maine's economy by developing highly trained and educated CHWs.

We're here to help! MCD's team will provide assistance with recognition by the Maine Department of Labor, guidance with required documents, instructions, and answer any questions or concerns that may surface during the process.
